INVESTMENT MANAGERS' COMMENTARY

In September, financial markets declined, weighed down by geopolitical tensions and a correction in rates markets. The standoff between the United States and Iran kept Brent above $100 for most of the month, reviving fears of a lasting energy shock and, with them, inflationary pressures. The Fed and the ECB each raised their policy rates by 25 bp, in widely anticipated moves. In the eurozone, inflation accelerated to 3.2%, leading the ECB to raise its 2026 projection to 3.0%, well above its 2% target. It was above all the prospect of restrictive rates being held for longer that caught investors off guard and triggered a bond market adjustment, with the US 10-year yield touching 5.3% intraday on 30 September, its highest level since 2007. Credit proved more resilient, with spreads widening only moderately, particularly in the Investment Grade segment. Equities also fell, though to a lesser extent. The Euro Stoxx 50 lost 2.4%, hurt by a weaker economic backdrop in the eurozone, while the S&P 500 held up better, limiting its decline to 0.5%.

Against this backdrop, the Stork DMS fund ended the month slightly in negative territory. On the credit/rates side, the Credit sub-portfolio gained ground, driven by basis trades that benefited from the sharper widening of CDS, which are the first to react in periods of stress, relative to bonds, as illustrated by BNP 05/30 and Bertelsmann 10/31 against protection. The portfolio took part in the reverse Yankee issues from 3M 09/28 and Uber Technologies 09/29, US issuers drawn by cheaper funding in euros than in dollars. Securitisation assets also performed well. Supported by their carry, the most senior tranches of European ABS and CLOs proved resilient to credit spread widening, with their floating-rate coupons shielding them from rising rates. The ABS sub-fund also took advantage of a buoyant primary market to strengthen its carry bucket, through the Italian and French consumer loan deals SUNRI 2026-2 A and CFDIS 26 A, issued at attractive levels. The Fixed Income sub-fund, by contrast, was hurt by the sharp adjustment in rates markets. The rise in sovereign yields was accompanied by bond underperformance against swaps, causing credit spreads to widen and weighing on asset swap strategies, such as France 2029, Italy 2030 and Belgium 2031.

Among the equity-focused strategies, the M&A sub-fund contributed positively to performance, despite an average widening of spreads. It mainly benefited from the decisive acceleration of the combination between Paramount Skydance and Warner Bros. Discovery, now expected to close in early October, as well as from the rise in Iveco, where the position was reduced. Conversely, the surprise withdrawal of the $18bn offer for MGM Resorts International weighed on results. The Convertible sub-fund ended slightly down, penalised by the deteriorating macroeconomic environment, with no issuer presenting any specific risk. This volatility was put to use in the primary market: a volatility arbitrage strategy was initiated on the Deutsche Boerse 0.5% 09/31 convertible, at an attractive implied volatility level for a very strong credit. The exposure to Clariane was also rolled into the new 6.875% 03/32 issue, with the nursing home group reporting rising occupancy rates.
